Air/Rail Travel Recommendations:

There is no easy connection by train (TGV) from Paris. Toulouse is a rather big city and well deserved from most of all biggest airports in Europe.

Each person should investigate their own possibilities from the city you are flying from among Paris, London, Amsterdam, Franckfurt, Munich, Brussel and Madrid which all have direct flight to Toulouse.

If you have the choice among those airports, you will have more connecting flights from Paris, but be careful with the airport you may arrive (Charles de Gaulle or Orly) and try to manage to keep the same airport in Paris as transfer between the 2 airports may be long and painful (about 1 hour and half), so it is better to stay in the same airport and choose your connecting flight according to this. In general, any flight at Paris Charles de Gaulle may be connected directly to Toulouse (even flight frequency is higher from Orly where there is a "Shuttle" flight every 30 min).
